

Introduction to The Writing Process

The Writing Process

Prewriting
Drafting Revising
Editing
Finishing/Publishing

Writers do many things. First, they choose one idea and start drawing and writing. Then, they read their writing over and over, and change some things to make it better. Finally, they share their writing with a reader.

Ready to Write?

- Choose a great idea.
- Get your idea down in words and pictures.
- Change words to make your writing better.
- Watch your spelling and handwriting.
